

Marvin R. Ellison

Chief Executive Officer
JCPenney

"JCPenney has called Plano home for nearly 25 years, and there has never been a more exciting time to be in this thriving community. Ongoing development and investment in the area offer a variety of benefits to our business, including access to a highly-skilled and diverse talent pool. Beyond being a favorable location for business, many of our associates and their families enjoy a way of life only Plano can offer."